

Contributors

Jordan J. Ballor (Dr. theol., University of Zurich; PhD, Calvin Theological Seminary) is director of research at the Center for Religion, Culture & Democracy. His scholarly interests include Reformation studies, church-state relations, theological anthropology, social ethics, theology and economics, and research methodology.

Brian Boyd (PhD, Notre Dame) is a postdoctoral teaching fellow in moral theology at the University of Notre Dame.

C. Layne Hancock is a PhD candidate in moral theology at the University of Notre Dame.

George Harinck (PhD, Brije Universiteit Amsterdam) is professor of the history of Neo-Calvinism at Vrije University Amsterdam and professor of the history of Protestantism at Theological University Kampen. He is director of The Neo-Calvinism Research Institute in Kampen.

Joost Hengstmengel (PhD, Erasmus University Rotterdam) is academic director of the Erasmus Economics and Theology Institute (EETI) at Erasmus University Rotterdam and assistant professor at the Neo-Calvinism Research Institute (NRI) at the Theological University Kampen-Utrecht, both in The Netherlands. He is editor-in-chief of the Journal of Economics, Theology and Religion (j-etr.org) and Sophie, the Dutch journal for Christian philosophy.

Peter S. Heslam (DPhil, University of Oxford; MA, University of Cambridge) is director of faith in business and a research associate of the Cambridge Centre for Christianity Worldwide, Westminster College, Cambridge. He is also a Fellow of the Kirby Laing Centre for Public Theology, Margaret Beaufort Institute, Cambridge. His publications on Abraham Kuyper include Creating a Christian Worldview: Abraham Kuyper's Lectures on Calvinism (Eerdmans 1998); “An Ethical Policy for an Islamic People: The Colonial Policy of the Kuyper Cabinet (1901–1905),” published in Journal of Markets and Morality 23, no. 2 (2020); and (as editor) Abraham Kuyper, On Business and Economics (Lexham Press; Acton, 2021).

Contributors

Elisabeth Rain Kincaid (PhD, University of Notre Dame; JD, The University of Texas School of Law) is assistant professor of ethics and moral theology at Nashotah House Theological Seminary. She has published articles and essays in numerous journals and edited volumes, including the Journal of Moral Theology, the journal of Political Theology, the Journal of the Society of Christian Ethics, and the Scottish Journal of Theology.

Steven McMullen (PhD, University of North Carolina) is an associate professor of economics at Hope College and is the executive editor of the journal Faith & Economics.

Paul Oslington (PhD, University of Sydney; DTheol, University of Divinity) is professor of economics and theology at Alphacrucis College. He writes on international trade, labor markets, and the history of economics.